Program SLOs

Student Learning outcomes for the AND Nursing Program – graduates will be able to:

- Practice professional/communication/role development as evidenced by commitment to core values of:
  - Advocacy
  - Caring
  - Diversity
  - Ethics
  - Holism
  - Integrity
  - Patient Centered Care
  - Quality
  - Safety
- Demonstrate competent, caring professional nursing behaviors incorporating personal responsibility and accountability for continued competence in diverse structured health care settings.
- Integrate knowledge of the holistic needs of the individual to provide an individual centered assessment with education based on liberal arts and biological sciences.
- Demonstrate awareness of and adaptability to the rapidly changing global society and dimensions of health care.

Clinical Reasoning

As evidenced by care coordination for individuals and groups across the lifespan:

- Demonstrate critical reasoning and communicate professionally and effectively with individuals, significant support person(s), and members of the interdisciplinary healthcare team.
- Demonstrate appropriate Assessment/Planning/ Intervention/Evaluation
- Integrate appropriate Psychomotor Skills

Integrate use of technical resources assisting student to interactively learn Patient Education and skills in a variety of patient care settings (acute care, community settings, home care) as evidence by facilitation of advancing the patient’s optimum health.